

Lumbago-Sciatica Sprains

"The directions says, its good for lumbago too,—Sloan's cured my rheumatism; I've used it and I know." Do you use Sloan's?

Here's Proof.

"I had my back hurt in the Boer War and two years ago I was hit by a street car. I tried all kinds of dope without success. I saw your Liniment in a drug store and got a bottle to try. The first application caused instant relief, and now except for a little stiffness, I am almost well."—Fletcher Norman, Whittier, Calif.

Instant Relief from Sciatica

"I was kept in bed with sciatica since the first of February, but I had almost instant relief when I tried your Liniment."—W. H. Hawkins, Frankfort, Ky.

Strained Ankle

"As a user of your Liniment for the last 15 years, I can say it is one of the best on the market. Fifteen years ago I sprained my ankle and had to use crutches, and the doctors said I would always be lame. A friend advised me to try your Liniment and after using it night and morning for three months I could walk without a cane and run as good as any of the other fellows in my department. I have never been without a bottle since that time."—Mr. William H. Brown, Central Islip, N. Y.

To Mutilate Convicts.

Des Moines, Ia., March 9.—Orders for the sterilization of twenty convicts in the state penitentiary at Fort Madison and the reformatory at Anamosa, under a new state law, were issued by the state board of control and forwarded to the authorities of those institutions. E. H. Ryan, a convict at Fort Madison, has been reported as prepared to ask for an injunction to prevent the state board from carrying out the law.

CASEY GOT EVEN WITH BULL

Hod-Carrier Chased Across Extensive Field by Angry Animal Takes Revenge on Playful Calf.

Gov. Glynn of New York tells a story concerning one Casey, a hod-carrier, who during the summer was employed at a country place in Westchester county. In order to reach the railway station to take the train home it was necessary for Casey to cross an extensive field.

One evening there was a bull in this field, and it gave Casey a terrible chase. He sprinted for about half a mile and only escaped by a wonderful leap over a five-foot fence.

Next evening, on his homeward journey, Casey carried a hod with him to serve as a weapon should he again encounter the bull. This time, however, the bull was absent. Only a playful, harmless calf was in sight. Approaching it, the vindictive Casey gave it a sharp blow with his hod, at the same time exclaiming excitedly: "Take that, and tell your father Patrick Casey done it!"—Lippincott's.

Handwriting.

Mother was fair, but she wished to be fairer still. Adorned by nature, she sought further beautification. Loveliness was her great goal.

Invited out to dinner, she stood before the mirror and, having made her yellow locks a trifle yellower she proceeded to apply the pencil to her eyebrows. This, it may be remarked, is an age of artificiality, and mother had reached this age.

The little daughter stood by and wondered.

"Mother, what are you writing on your face for?"—Popular Magazine.

MODERN LITTLE HELPER.

"I suppose your little girl is quite big enough now to be a good deal of help to her mother." "No; she won't be any help to her mother until she can play a better game of bridge."

Training Down Daddy.

Ethel—I declare, Elsie, how well your father looks. He belongs to that downtown business men's gymnasium, doesn't he?

Elsie—Not daddy. Dad's more up to date than that. Mother and we girls talked him into joining Miss Martin's tango classes, and the improvement has been simply wonderful.—St. Louis Republic.

A Precocious Ringer.

"Shocking case of swindling in our neighborhood. The women are so excited over it that all the men are taking their meals out and sleeping downtown."

"Gracious! What's the trouble?" "Why, it has just been discovered that Mrs. Pluff got the first prize at the baby show on a professional baby that she rented from a side-show barker!"

A Tragic Cook.

Guest (who has been invited to supper by an actress)—Our hostess prepared this little feast with her own hands, so she tells me. What do you say to that?

The Other Guest (shrugging his shoulders)—That she is a tragedienne in the art of cookery also.

Just the Thing.

"What are you reading so carefully?"

"A patent office report." "You seem deeply interested." "Yes; I was just thinking what a fine libretto it would make for a comic opera."

Realism.

"It's shocking the way the members of the chorus are hugging and kissing each other while the principals are trying to carry out the plot of the piece."

"Tut, tut, man. The scenes of this opera are laid in Paris. What you see is merely 'local color.'"

Automatic Polishers.

"Your balustrades are beautifully polished."

"Fine, aren't they?"

"Must be a good deal of work for the servants."

"Not at all. The children keep them that way, sliding downstairs."

Queer Tastes.

"Why is our guest wandering on the lawn?"

"He's an odd chap. Wants to listen to the nightingale, and here I have some lovely new gramophone records for him."

Advertising Pays.

"Does advertising pay? I lost a $100 on the street."

"Well?"

"I advertised, and so far I haven't lost a cent."

AGED CITIZEN

Of Near Lafayette Died Last Friday.

Mr. Willis Stapp, a well known farmer and much esteemed citizen, died last Friday at the home of his son, Jabe Stapp, near Lafayette. Mr. Stapp was 74 years old and had been steadily declining in health for some time. He is survived by his wife and seven children. The interment took place in the Moss burying ground Saturday.

BACK TO AFRICA

Virginia Negro Girl Weds a Zulu Prince Here at School.

Princess Madikane Quandiyanee Cleo, who was Julia Smith, a little Virginia darkey before she went to Hampton Institute, is going with her Zulu husband, son of a Zulu king to convert the African negroes to christianity.

They married four months ago, and next week Cleo, and his bride will sail for Durban, on the east coast of Africa and thence overland to the Zulu settlement, where they plan to teach the men how to read and write and make wagons and build houses, and Julia will instruct the women in housekeeping arts.

Julia is a serious, plump, steady-eyed young person, who looks forward to her new life with calmness and confidence, albeit the old father to whom her husband is taking her is a reformed polygamist. He was once a mighty prince in Zululand, was this old savage, and, as became his dignity, he had many wives. But he had a yearning for greater wisdom and, hearing that there were white men in the land who could give him wisdom, he traveled many leagues to sit at their feet. They were missionaries, these white men, and through them he became a Christian—so much a Christian that he renounced his princedom and turned missionary. He put away his wives all except Cleo's mother.

"My mother is the youngest and the prettiest; that is why he kept her," Cleo explained yesterday in a matter-of-fact way.

And Report.

By beating water in a pail with a wooden paddle, it can be made to boil in six hours. If you don't believe this, try it yourself.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Free Presents to Mothers From the Druggists of Hopkinsville

They Will Give Away Free to Mothers With Small Children Full Size 25-Cent Packages of the New "External" Vapor Treatment That Relieves Croup in Fifteen Minutes—Colds Overnight.

No one knows better than the skilled druggist the dangerous character of most cough and cold preparations. To produce results these remedies must contain some form of narcotic or some one of the coal tar products. These drugs are injurious to the stomach, especially to the delicate stomachs of little children.

Druggists have long sought for some direct method of reaching cold troubles—for some form of vapor treatment that could be inhaled direct to the lung and air passages.

In a little North Carolina town a druggist discovered how to combine Thymol, Eucalyptol, Menthol, Camphor, Oil of Pine, etc., in the form of a salve so that when applied to the chest and throat the heat of the body would release these volatile products in the form of vapors.

These vapors are inhaled all night long, at the same time the preparation is absorbed through the skin, taking out the soreness and tightness. The effect for all cold troubles is remarkable, no matter whether head colds or deep chest colds. For croup positive relief is assured in fifteen minutes. For all forms of bronchial troubles, sore throat, difficult breathing, etc., this new treatment will be found unusually effective.

And better still is the fact that this "external" treatment can be used with perfect safety on the smallest child as often and as freely as you wish. Nothing to swallow, nothing injurious, the full ingredients are in every wrapper.

Realizing the value of a treatment of this kind, especially to mothers with small children, a number of the leading druggists of Hopkinsville are arranging to give away full size 25-cent packages free to their regular customers. None of the druggists have received their shipments as yet but as the free supply is limited and there will be a rush for these free packages, the best thing is to present your coupon at once and have your package reserved.

COUPON No. 3....

Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, was resented to death at Atlanta, the date of execution being fixed for April 17.

John D's First Sweetheart.

St. Louis, Mo., March 9.—Mrs. Emma Saunders Cummings, John D. Rockefeller's first sweetheart, and who introduced him to Cleveland church society when he was a driver of a coal wagon, is believed to be dying at her home, 4104 Castleman avenue. She is seventy-two years old, and lives with her husband, George W. Cummings, and a daughter, Miss Ella.

Mrs. Cummings, who is three years younger than the world's richest man, whose wife she might have been, had she desired, and the world's richest woman, met Rockefeller as a result of their both being members of the Euclid avenue Baptist church, in Cleveland.

Death Was Sudden.
